Presented to the Library by Joseph A. Donahoe, Esq., of San Francisco, at whose expense the work was published. Edited with an introduction and notes by J. T. Doyle. The original manuscript of this work was kept in the convent of San Fernando, and was probably destroyed at the time of the destruction of the convent. The preservation of the work is due to an order of Charles IV, who had copies made of early narratives for the archives of Spain. A copy of Paloú's work exists in the archives of Mexico. This is a reprint with corrections of the edition which appeared in 1846 in the Diario Oficial of Mexico, in an imperfect condition. Bancroft's History of the Pacific states, vol. 13, shows that an edition of the work forms vols. 6, 7 of the fourth series of the "Documentos para la historia de México," published in 1857, of which Doyle makes no mention.

"Among the various documents incorporated in the book, the diaries of the several expeditions by land and sea will probably prove the most generally interesting. Those of Father Crespi, of the first overland journey to San Diego, and thence up the coast in quest of Monterey, are . . . peculiarly so." "The diary of Portola's expedition from San Diego, in 1769, records, as I suppose, the first discovery by civilized man of the bay of San Francisco." — J. T. Doyle.

Index of Articles upon American Local History, IN HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

It was primarily intended to index for this list only serial historical publications. In accordance with a later decision many state and county histories, in which the town or county history is separately treated, are included. Drake's Middlesex County, and Egle's History of Pennsylvania, are prominent examples of this class of publications. The local histories are there written by specialists.

Classified Index to the Maps in the Publications of the Geological Society of London.

1811-1885.

By RICHARD BLISS,
(Librarian of the Redwood Library, Newport, R. I.)

The following index includes all the maps and plans, but not the sections, in the Transactions, Proceedings, and Quarterly Journal of the Geological Society of London.

Where no title is given, either on the map-plate or in the index to the plates, a title has been made up, and is so indicated by being enclosed in square brackets. Words added to the printed title for the purpose of elucidation are likewise similarly enclosed. An indented title indicates that the map to which it refers occupies a portion of the larger map designated by the title immediately preceding it.

The dates given are those of the imprint in the Transactions, and the year for which the volume is published in the Proceedings and Quarterly Journal.

The size is the space enclosed in the outer border lines — the first measurement given being the one parallel with the printed title. The contraction ca indicates the approximate size of a map or plan not enclosed by border lines.

In this index the scale is given in English statute miles, or in the customary subdivisions of the same. Where the map gives the scale in nautical miles a reduction has been made to the statute mile. For those maps in which no scale is given an approximate one has been calculated, when possible, which is shown by the contraction ca and enclosed in square brackets.

Owing to the imperfect numbering of the plates in the first volume of the Journal the number of the page is also given for better identification.

For the sake of convenience those districts of Asiatic Turkey bordering the Red sea on the east are included in Arabia. In indicating the different publications of the Society T refers to the first series of the Transactions, Tt to the second series of the same, and P to the Proceedings; all the entries given without an initial letter refer to the Quarterly Journal.

The Transactions may be found in the Boston Public Library on shelf number *5871.1. The Quarterly Journal on *5826.1.

The classified index to the Transactions, Proceedings and Quarterly Journal, to the end of 1875, is on shelf number *5826.50.

Notes.

GIFTS. — The Trustees have received and hold certain securities, amounting to about five thousand five hundred dollars, from the estate of Daniel Treadwell, formerly Rumford Professor in Harvard College. This sum, it is expected, will be increased by an amount about equal to this from the same source.

The Trustees have received notice of a gift of five hundred dollars to the Charlestown Branch Library, under the will of the late Hon. Edward Lawrence, to be appropriated, from time to time, to the purchase of books of reference for that branch. Mr. Lawrence, a few months before his death, gave numerous books and pamphlets to the Library.

A copy of Ball's bronze statuette of Daniel Webster has been received, by bequest, from the late Mayor, Joseph M. Wightman, to whom it was presented by citizens of Boston, in recognition of his efforts in behalf of the Public Garden.

Mention has been made in a former Bulletin of the receipt by the City of Boston of $50,000, in accordance with the provisions of the will of the late Arthur Scholfield, of which sum the income, after the expiration of certain life interests, will be applied to the purchase of books of permanent value for the Public Library. From the same source about thirteen hundred volumes have recently been received by the Library. These include many books rarely met with, few of which were already in the Library.

Recent gifts to the Library include the following: From Rev. Caleb D. Bradlee, 40 volumes and 431 pamphlets; Godfrey R. Cabot, 207 volumes and 65 pamphlets; Rev. James Freeman Clarke, 5 volumes and 623 pamphlets; Dr. William Everett, 20 volumes and 345 pamphlets;

William A. Hovey, 59 volumes and 70 pamphlets; William T. R. Marvin, 2 volumes and 88 pamphlets; Miss C. M. Mixer, 72 volumes and 30 pamphlets; Samuel S. Shaw, 104 volumes and 574 pamphlets; Miss Caroline C. Thayer, 52 volumes, 103 portraits, and 6 views; Mrs. R. S. Thompson, 81 volumes and 379 pamphlets; Miss Anna E. Ticknor, 307 volumes and 66 pamphlets; West Roxbury High School, 75 volumes; and Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, 5 volumes and 141 pamphlets.

NEW LIBRARY BUILDING. — The Trustees, in consultation with the City Architect, are holding frequent sessions in respect to the plans of the new building on Dartmouth street, and are taking measures to begin its erection in the spring.

MAPS OF BOSTON. — The Library has acquired copies of several hitherto unknown maps of Boston and New England, copied from the originals in the British Museum; also, a considerable number of interesting broadsides issued by the Patriots in Boston during the early Revolutionary period, respecting the arrival of troops, the destruction of tea in Boston harbor, and the siege of Boston.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1884-1885. — The thirty-third Annual Report of the Boston Public Library can be obtained, without charge, at the Central Library and Branch Libraries.

FICTION CATALOGUE. — A new Catalogue of the collection of English prose fiction, including translations and books for the young, in the Lower Hall of the Central Library, has been published. Copies are for sale at the Central Library and Branch Libraries.

ROSLINDALE DELIVERY STATION. — The Roslindale delivery station was reopened November 1.

"The great assises holden in Parnassus" and the "Vaticanium votivum" or Palæmon's prophetic prayer" are included, without question, by Mr. Hazlitt, in his Bibliographical handbook, amongst the works of George Wither. There is much doubt, however, in the minds of many critics whether George Wither wrote either of them, and in this doubt the president [John Leigh] participates. — Introduction to The great assises [*6605.53].

Index of Articles upon American Local History,

IN HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

It was primarily intended to index for this list only serial historical publications. In accordance with a later decision many state and county histories, in which the town or county history is separately treated, are included. Drake's Middlesex County, and Egle's History of Pennsylvania, are prominent examples of this class of publications. The local histories are there written by specialists.

Added, an exercitation on Numb. xxxii. 10, 11, 12, with an occasional meditation on 1. Sam. xxiii. 11, 12. By a gentleman. Boston, 1731. Sm. 4°. H.94.113; H.26.32

Dudley cites the Greek authors and passages in other parts of the New Testament to prove that the word σωμάτων here translated "slaves" should be rendered "dead bodies." On page 8 he says,—"Now the trade of merchandize carried on . . . with the dead bodies of men may be comprehended under these two general heads; 1. Mortuaries and rights of burial; 2. Relicks and pilgrimages." Various polyglot Bibles and also the Revised version indicate the substitution of "bodies" for "slaves" in the same text.

Index of Articles upon American Local History,

IN HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

It was primarily intended to index for this list only serial historical publications. In accordance with a later decision many state and county histories, in which the town or county history is separately treated, are included. Drake's Middlesex County, and Egle's History of Pennsylvania, are prominent examples of this class of publications. The local histories are there written by specialists.

New Hampshire grants.

The New Hampshire grants, so called, comprised townships mainly situated in the territory now the State of Vermont, granted by the governor of the province of New Hampshire to settlers from Connecticut, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. The towns on the east side of the Connecticut finally became incorporated with New Hampshire, while the others organized an independent government, which was maintained against the claims of New York, and became, in 1791, the State of Vermont.

The editor states that this edition was rendered necessary by the revolution in the notions concerning the history of Italian painting, brought about by the appearance of Morelli's work on the Italian masters in German galleries. [In German 8085.54; English 8085.55.] Morelli's views have been generally accepted. Milanese's edition of Vasari has also caused revision of many statements in previous editions.

Stillé, Charles J. Beaumarchais and "The lost million." A chapter of the secret history of the American revolution. [Phila., 1837.] Sm. 4^o. 4422.67

Prior to the treaty of alliance between France and the United States in 1773, it was held by the French Government that 3,000,000 livres had been presented as a gift from the king; the United States commissioners, however, received only 2,000,000. This pamphlet narrates the connection of Beaumarchais, while secret diplomatic agent, with this "lost million." In 1835, his heirs received about $200,000 from the United States. This paper may be found, with portrait, in the Pennsylvania magazine of history and biography, vol. 11, pp. 1-36 [*5335.1.11].

Index of Articles upon American Local History,

IN HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS IN THE BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY.

It was primarily intended to index for this list only serial historical publications. In accordance with a later decision many state and county histories, in which the town or county history is separately treated, are included. Drake's Middlesex County, and Egle's History of Pennsylvania, are prominent examples of this class of publications. The local histories are there written by specialists.
